COUNCIL SAYS TO RING THE CURFEW BELL AS USUAL

Some Would Have the Practice
Dropped, but Majority Want
Children Cared For

Aldermen Skeritt and Torgan on Monday night at the Council meeting objected to making the kiddies like home at 9 o'clock these nights not out of any idea for the Chief Clynne's feelings who has to take a walk around to the school every night at 9 o'clock and ring the bell, but rather for sentimental and personal reasons.

Aldermen Skeritt, who arrived at the town hall with ladies hanging to his drooping moustache, with his coat collar tucked up around his eyes, and two suits of underwear on, took as his grounds for objection the proposition that summer was here and that it was a shame to put the children to bed at 9 o'clock instead of letting them stay out and build ice palaces. He had in view the treatment he received when he was a kiddie, and this was apparently so because, that he thought that in this progressive day and generation the children should have more liberty.

Alderman Torgan averred that the only one of his large family who he could put to bed at 8 o'clock, was the one who couldn't walk yet, and he had to take the other one. Anyway he couldn't see why the lunch of kids who pay him 10 or 15 cents to get in a picture show, should have to "beat it" at 9 o'clock and miss the comedy. He wanted to see them get the worth of their money, and then he allowed to hike straight home without any interference from Chief Clynne.

The two dissenters then fathered a motion to discontinue the ringing of the curfew bell.

Alderman Connolly assured the benighted Aldermen that Chief Clynne had a little common sense in his noodle and would not run any kids in who happened to be going straight home after the picture show, and that the curfew bell gave the chief the power of the law and his own left hand to handle cases which he deemed urgent. Anyway he assured the Aldermen that the exercise was doing Chief Clynne good.

Alderman Radford hadn't the slightest objection to having his children sent home at 9 o'clock or any other old time. In fact he doesn't allow them to beat the streets at all, and Mayor Travis wanted to see his children follow in the footsteps of daddy and stay at home nights as he objected to the motion.

Alderman Radford whose children have children, who possibly in turn have children of their own in the adolescent stage, didn't see why these children shouldn't be home at 9 o'clock, while Alderman Skeritt's quietly acquiesced in the "spare the rod, spoil the child" theory.

It was plainly to be seen that even John S. Mavor and the editor wanted the town to help bring up their children properly, so the benighted Aldermen who wanted to give the children their liberty for 24 hours at a stretch, quietly withdrew their motion.

Alderman Connolly, as chairman of the Finance Committee, has decided to sit pretty tight on the town sale this year, and intimated his intention of "getting off the perch" when anybody wanted to put money in, but enough down on all four when anybody wanted to take money out.

Dog Catcher Jack Clynne informs The Mail that after the last of this month dog owners without a license will be pulled and hauled before Magistrate Morden for infraction of the bylaw.

In this respect it might be well to mention that a certain magistrate, not a thousand miles from here, was apprehended to impose a double fine on himself for the fracture of one of the town bylaws. He was both magistrate and accused. The same may happen here in this town.

The theses and basket school given at Hutton hall by the Patriotic Committee from Township 24-4-4 was a decided success in every way. The crowd was one of the largest ever seen at Hutton hall. The door was in five minutes and the music supplied by The Connolly Orchestra was par excellence. $175.25 was cleared. The baskets and lunches brought $111.80, ticket sale $5.00, and the Patriotic share from the sale of E. Klant's horse was $16.00.

HUTTON

Lois Kenzie sectioned off his debts and Billy Sunday has nothing on Lou. The way he took of his coat and went after that crowd for their money was a revelation. There was nothing to it. Roy Ferguson came up smiling with $10 for Miss Mary Bureau's basket. Jim Ryan had to pay $11.00 to eat with his bride and Harold (Jim's brother) coughed $0.00 for Mrs. Callaway's dainty repast. Jim Gordon got Miss Joy Bureau's basket for $0.00, and Jim was pretty sure because someone did not force him to go higher.

The rest of the baskets, some 20 in all, brought from $0.50 to $0.00.

The secretary's report of date is as follows:

Sale of Tickets	$ 80.00
Sale of baskets and lunches	111.80
Donations from long lunches	10.00
Other donations to date	10.00
Total	$ 201.80

We wish to thank everybody who was present for their presence and generosity.

MAY BRING THE BRIDGE ALONG FROM EDMONTON

Big Delegation Now in Capital To Tell Government What They Think About Them

After taking into consideration the "let" and provisos of the Provincial government's promise to build a wooden bridge across the Red Deer river, the delegation appointed by Hutton farmers, reinforced by Bassano delegates, totally disregarding that apparently flimsy promise, gathered together in town on Tuesday night, and looked themselves to Edmonton by the shortest possible route. There they will interview the government and lay before the ministers the great need of bridge across the river.

The Hutton-delegation consisted of L. J. Kemp, N. D. Ferguson, Wm. Gordon, E. Klant, S. Deer, senior, E. W. Ward, D. F. Halley, A. Hoffman and Reeve Winning of Berry Creek Municipality. L. M. Webster and G. M. Plante, from Bassano accompanied the bunch.

The delegation seems very determined to secure some definite satisfaction from the government, and provided Earl Ward keeps the rest of the gang sober, it is expected the boys will land in town with the bridge. No doubt the delegation will struggle homewardly or in pairs.

SHALL WE VOTE?

The women of Ontario are doing their level best to get the vote. A Province-wide campaign has just been concluded, in which signatures were solicited to an Equal Suffrage petition which will be presented to the Ontario Legislature this session. A rather disheartening note to the women has been the fact that they have not had, editorially, the enthusiastic support of the press.

However, as a panacea, "Everywoman's" "The new publication with a Dominion-wide circulation, has come out with a novel scheme that will give the women of the Dominion a chance to voice their opinions on the questions of the day, and in so doing bring their views to the attention of the Government Provincial and Federal.

"Everywoman's" publishes a series of debate the opinions of two prominent women in Ontario—Mrs. Archibald B. Houston, President Toronto Local Council of Women, and President of the Women's Emergency Corps, 2nd Military Division, and Miss Laura Hughes, niece of Sir James Hughes, a member of the Equal Franchise League Executive, and of the North American Sociological Research Institute.

"What is the question of the day?" "Shall There Be Conscription?"

Mrs. Houston agrees affirmatively. "The utility of the present method," is one of her chief reasons. Miss Hughes strongly opposes the question. "Conscription," she says Hughes, "won't be forced." Nor does she see why they should give the honour of military utility to voluntarism.

The arguments, pro and con, will give the women of Canada food for deep thought. After they have carefully considered their own feelings in the matter, they will have an opportunity to become integral parts of the "Women's Parliament of Canada," as the organization is called, by marking the ballots supplied in the February issue of "Everywoman's," endorsing either "I am in Favor of Conscription," or, "I am Opposed to Conscription."

With a reading patronage of about 600,000, this all-Canadian magazine is undoubtedly the best of thought of the women of the Dominion on all important questions.

A. B. Glynn of Medical Lake, Washington, is in town, and will look after the erection of a number of residences on the lands taken up north of Macleod, preparatory to the arrival of settlers in the Spring.

FIGHTING TUBERCULOSIS

A very interesting sketch by a soldier at the front, and which is now being published by the Military Hospital Commission, West, unlimited fresh air, and proper feeding of the body play a large part in the treatment organized by the Military Hospital Commission; but even more, carefully eradicated, and interesting occupation are also employed with most valuable results in restoring the patient to health and energy of body and mind.

Of the 3,850 invalided soldiers now being cared for by the Commission in Canada, 84 are suffering from tuberculosis, besides 84 remaining in English hospitals.

All these 604 men were passed by medical officers as sound in mind and limb at the time of enlistment. Some of them, doubtless, in their eagerness to serve at the front, concealed facts which would have aroused the doctor's suspicions. Others did not know that their lungs were affected. It is often difficult to detect the trouble in its early stages.

In 223 of 604, the disease was discovered before the men had a chance to go overseas. That is, it developed under the most favorable conditions of life—no life-no more than the experience of a hunting expedition in the woods, which so many people undertake as a holiday recreation.

What does it mean, this discovery of 604 "consumptives" even among the picked men, who should be above the average in health and strength?

It means this. The seeds of the disease have been sown in thousands of apparently healthy folk, and simply lie until the right circumstances give them a chance to spring up and attack the body infected by them. When they give the man a back for his life.

If there is one thing certain, it is that the disease can be stamped out. It can only be done by combating prevention with cure.

Early all consumptives can be cured, if the disease has not been allowed to go very far. And the example set by the thorough treatment now given to tuberculous soldiers should be followed in dealing with all others attacked by the disease.

So much for the standard care, still more important is the question of prevention. The seeds cannot grow if they are not sown. We must prevent them from being sown.

Those who have the disease can and must be taught how to avoid giving it to others. It is of most concern to soldiers that they should not give it to their comrades. It is of most concern to the seeds first to enter our bodies and then to germinate and attack us.

Good ventilation, sunlight, and good food thoroughly masticated and digested—with these on our side we can defy the enemy.

Now, more than ever before, it is im-

BASSANO FAVORS BRIDGE ACROSS RED DEER RIVER

Business Men Join Hutton Delegation
To Interview Government
At Edmonton

A meeting of the business men of the town was held at the town hall on Monday afternoon for the purpose of appointing delegates from Bassano to accompany the Red Deer delegation to Edmonton on their mission to petition the government for a bridge across the Red Deer, and among those present were G. M. Pierce, R. P. Findlay, W. Tegerdine, A. McKee, J. Torgan, L. M. Webster, Roy Smith, A. T. Connolly, M. E. Lazerte, John S. Mavor, G. H. Travis, and P. W. Stone.

John S. Mavor was asked to take the chair, and expressed his opinion that a bridge was necessary, and that it did not matter much where that bridge was placed, the town of Bassano should do all in its power to assist the people across the river in getting the means of transportation. The consensus of opinion of the meeting was unanimously in favor of a delegation from Bassano accompanying the farmers.

It was accordingly moved and seconded and carried that G. M. Pierce and L. M. Webster be the delegates, and that R. P. Findlay be a substitute in case either of the delegates appointed should find it impossible to get away.

On motion a public subscription was taken to pay the expenses of the delegates up to $25 each, and any surplus over the $25 was to be turned over to the secretary to be put in a Trust fund for a Board of delegates to be organized in the near future.

PAYING OFF IEBT

The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church are endeavoring to wipe off the debt on the church organ, which has been hanging fire for a number of years and accumulating interest, and that they will do by subscriptions from the members of the Church.

This debt seemed to be hopeless unless some such course was taken, as the interest was practically eating up all the payments made. It is altogether probable that as a result of the efforts of the ladies the entire debt will be removed at once.

A meeting of the local Board of Health will shortly be called to consider the matter of connecting up with water and sewers since it was found that the Council had no jurisdiction in that matter.

It is necessary to increase the health and efficiency of every Canadian, and that when peace comes we can make good the credit of life and health, caused by the war. Unhealthy conditions of life and labour must be rooted out as deadly enemies of our country's prosperity. Such conditions exist both in town and country, though much worse in town.

Governments, municipal Authorities, anti-tuberculosis leagues, and all of us as private citizens, should all move in the same line to end, and perfect the efficiency of the methods used.

A little hand-book entitled "Fighting Tuberculosis" by Lester J. B. Dyer, C. A. M. C., who has charge of the two sanatoriums at St. Agathe, has just been published by the Military Hospital Commission for the soldiers concerned. Similar pamphlets have been put out by certain local organizations and insurance companies.

The needs of safety, in such publications should be spread as widely and cultivated as activity as the seeds of danger are now being spread and cultivated by our neglect.

THE FUTURE OF GRAIN

The Farmers' Advocate of Winnipeg says editorially the following:

Opinion varies considerably as to the future of the grain and livestock markets after the war. Our opinion, however, is that a few years after the war we will have lower grain prices than has been the case for many years. This opinion is not, of course, based on the fact that many eminent authorities, and is based on the lower buying price of Europe caused by the great conflict and greater competition in the world's markets of low cost Russian grain. In addition to the competition which is now evident from other extensive grain growing areas of the world.

It will continue to be a question of supply and demand regulating world's prices and the demand is certain to increase after the war. The market we must necessarily face has not situation with lower prices.

In contrast, the livestock market looks with a more optimistic outlook owing to the comparatively lower world's market prices. Prices may show some recovery, but not to the corresponding level of the grain market. Hence the future of the trade, those who are conserving their breeding stock, especially those classes which require a long period to build up, such as cattle, may find a good outlet through which to market their clean grain in previous days. Those who are yearly planning their farm again to incorporate better livestock production may fully appreciate the financial security of their efforts.

TEST YOUR SEED

As an aid to the farmers of Alberta, the seed and weed branch of the Provincial Department of Agriculture has arranged to receive seed samples from the University of Alberta to have any and all samples examined for purity, vigor, and seed quality. The report will show the percentage of pure seeds in the grain, from which the sample has been taken, and the farmer can then be guided as to the amount of seed to sow per acre.

The Provincial Department of Agriculture is of the opinion that each farmer should take steps to secure himself of the possession of sufficient seed of the known quality to meet his needs. In a bulletin which the department has sent out to the farmers, it makes several excellent suggestions to guide them in the choice of the grain from which to choose their seed. Amongst others, it requests the farmer to submit the sample of seed grain as early as possible, as it takes at least ten days to make a proper test, and the test is usually completed during the last month before seeding.

It also suggests in the bulletin that the sample submitted be a representative one and that only seed taken from several ears of the field be large one and these samples be taken and another sample taken from the mixture. The grain should be cleaned before test submitted.

The effects of the course adopted by the Department of Agriculture should be noticeable in a much better quality of grain yield throughout the province, and this will, of course, result in the farmers receiving better prices for their yield.
